

We believe that our people are the most important asset that drives the company into success, accordingly SRDesign offers its employees career development, progressive personal development and competitive remuneration packages.

Career Development: As a member of SRDesign family, you'll be encouraged to develop your skills and career. In order to attract and retain talented employees, SRDesign offers cross functional opportunities, on the job training, and internal job opportunities.

Compensation and Benefits: SRDesign offers a fully fledged benefit system that could include: medical insurance, transportation, performance bonuses and more, to be determined upon completion of interview process.